

Abstract

The invention is based on a wiper blade for cleaning motor vehicle windows, having a wiper strip (12) which is held by a support bracket system (10) and is encompassed by a laterally closed protective profile (14, 22, 24).

The proposal is made that the protective profile (14, 22) be closed in the longitudinal direction (38, 40) on at least one end by a cover (16, 18, 20), which can be used to open and close the protective profile (14, 22).

(Fig. 1)

09806269-051401